

LessStress Adrenal STRESS FORMULA 240

Your Adrenal glands are responsible for many processes in the body, including the production of various hormones that trigger chemical activity in every system, such as blood pressure, heart rate, sweating, and the use of fats, proteins and carbohydrates in the body. Adrenal fatigue can result in exhaustion, headaches, insomnia, joint and muscle pain, allergies, and excess weight. Adrenal stress can be responsible for weight gain or loss, lack of energy, dehydration, intolerance to cold, as well as additional symptoms. Our proprietary blend of Glandular along with Siberian Ginseng Extract, Ashwagandha Extract, and Cordyceps Sinensis Extract help to support an appropriate and healthy response to stress by promoting balanced hypothalamic-pituitary-adrenal axis function. A must for people under stress!
