CoQ10
 COENZYMES

*Natural Heart Support
 Promotes Healthy Cells

Coenzyme CoQ10 is a naturally occurring coenzyme found in all cells and is critical in the production of energy within and basic functioning of each cell. As our bodies age, CoQ10 diminishes, and many people with chronic diseases show reduced levels of CoQ10 so supplementation becomes necessary. CoQ10 is essential for healthy cells, tissues and organs. It boosts energy production, while enhancing the immune system and acting as a powerful antioxidant. Numerous studies are showing the importance of CoQ10 in the treatment of numerous illnesses, including cardiovascular illnesses such as congestive heart failure and angina, lowering blood pressure, diabetes, fibromyalgia, in helping weight loss as CoQ10 stimulates the body's metabolism, gingivitis and in slowing the effects of Parkinson's disease. If you have a serious disease/disorder, such as congestive heart failure, check with your qualified health care professional to ensure the proper dosage.
